INSTRUCTIONS, &c.

I.—REGULAR FORCES.

A.O. 133.—Cold Shoeing.

(ISSUED AS A SPECIAL ARMY ORDER ON THE 9TH MARCH 1888.)

1. From the 1st April 1888, three-fourths of the horses of all Cavalry Regiments, except in India, will be shod on the "cold" system of shoeing with ready-made shoes and nails; the shoes and nails for the remaining one-fourth being made in the regimental forges. The necessary instructions will be found in Army Order 187.

2. Immediately on receipt of these instructions, Commanding Officers will direct their farriers to discontinue making store shoes, and to limit their purchases of iron and coal to the quantities indispensably necessary to carry on the present system to the 31st March.

3. Soldiers qualified to act as shoeing-smiths under Art. 4 of the Royal Warrant of the 6th March 1888, will be employed in the forge under Art. 6 of the said Warrant, in rotation for such period as may be necessary or convenient, with a view to affording practice to the whole of the trained men in the regiment.

4. It is incumbent upon Commanding Officers to watch carefully the working of this system, in order to prevent waste, and the Veterinary Surgeon in charge of the regiment should be held strictly responsible that the horses are not shod oftener than is actually necessary, and that all shoes, nails, iron, and coals issued to the farriers are appropriated solely to the uses for which they are supplied.

5. The efficient working of the system will greatly depend upon the hearty co-operation of the farriers, and Commanding Officers should explain to them that zeal and intelligence exhibited on their part in carrying it out will be borne in mind in recording their fitness for advancement.

A.O. 135.—Regulations for Cavalry, 1887—Tent Pegging.

1. The following will be added after Section 37, Part I., of the Regulations for the Instruction and Movements of Cavalry, 1887 :—

SECTION 37A.—TENT PEGGING.

The following instructions for guidance in the practices of tent pegging, lemon cutting, and other Cavalry mounted exercises will be strictly adhered to :—

Rules for Tent Pegging.

The horses used for these practices will be not less than six years old. They will be selected from the strong and active horses. Horses of a nervous temperament will not be used.

These exercises are not to take place oftener than twice in each week.

No horse will be ridden more than three runs on any day.

At all times an Officer, or reliable non-commissioned officer, who is himself thoroughly well instructed, is to superintend the practice.

As accidents to the horses are likely to happen from want of skill in the riders, the men will commence with blunt spears (without heads). They should at first be taught to move at a walk, then at a canter, and when they have become expert with their weapons, at the full speed of their horses.

Steady men and good riders only (particularly those with light hands) should be permitted to practise.

The men will be instructed not to pull up their horses too suddenly after passing the peg.

The men should be particularly instructed that in taking the peg, speed and style will be taken into consideration in awarding prizes.

The knuckles must be kept down, and the point of the spear held a little outwards, the spear will then naturally be recovered over the back, and not over the arm, which is liable to hurt the wrist.

When cutting at the lemon, the chief object should be to cut with the edge of the sword. No good mark should be given to a man who merely knocks the lemon off the stick, or bruises it, and does not give it a clean cut.

3. In making requisitions, Commanding Officers will not demand at one time more than three sets of shoes with nails per horse for three-fourths of the number of horses present, this number of sets being, presumably, sufficient for three months.

4. No greater proportion of shoes will be allowed without a certificate from the Veterinary Surgeon, countersigned by the Commanding Officer, explaining the exceptional circumstances which have rendered additional supplies necessary.

5. Shoes and nails for one-fourth of the number of horses on the establishment will be made in the regimental forges, out of the worn shoes removed from the horses of the regiment.

6. Should it be found necessary, under certain circumstances, to issue nail rod to supplement the old iron in making nails for the shoes made in the forges, the following proportion will be issued from ordnance stores on the requisitions of Commanding Officers:—nail rod  $\frac{3}{4}$  inch . . . 5 oz. for each set of shoes.

7. Commanding Officers will report on the 1st October and again on the 1st April, through the General Officer Commanding, to the Adjutant-General of the Forces on the cold shoeing of their respective regiments. In these reports the durability of the shoes and nails, the quantities actually found to be necessary, the quantities of nail rod drawn from store (if any), the amount of coal consumed per 100 sets of shoes made in the forges, and any exceptional conditions of service, will be carefully detailed.

8. When regiments march from one station to another, one fore and one hind shoe with nails will be carried on each horse, and Commanding Officers will arrange to send forward as regimental heavy baggage, to such points in the line of march as may be most convenient, any further numbers likely to be required on the march, not exceeding one set per horse for the entire strength, and will return the remainder into store. The shoes removed from the horses' feet on the march will be returned to store should opportunity offer, or, if likely to be required for making new shoes, will be forwarded in like manner to the station to which the regiment is proceeding, unless they can be conveniently carried by the regimental transport, or in the shoe cases.

9. When the route of the regiment lies through an Ordnance Store station, any shoes required will be drawn there, so as to obviate, as far as possible, the expense of sending shoes forward by rail. Any old shoes may, at the same time, be returned to store, and a similar number of old shoes may be drawn on the arrival of the regiment at its destination, if necessary.

10. On arrival at their new station, Commanding Officers will demand from store the balance of shoes and nails due to them on the quarter's supply. Any shoes used on the march in excess of the three-fourths proportion will be made good subsequently, by turning out a greater number in the forges.

11. Should the station to which a regiment or detachment is moved have no Ordnance Store Depot, special arrangements for the supply of shoes and nails from the nearest store depot will have to be made.

12. On the promulgation of these instructions, the General Officer or other Officer commanding the troops in each district or station where Cavalry regiments or detachments are stationed, will convene a Board of Officers to take stock of the shoeing and forge tools, iron, coal (if any), and store shoes in possession of the farriers, and to assess their value, having regard to the prices paid, and to the wear still remaining in the tools.

13. These reports should be rendered to the War Office for approval, as nearly as possible at the close of the present financial year, so that on the 1st April the articles may be handed over by the farriers to the Commanding Officers as Government property, and taken on ledger charge.

14. The tools purchased from the farriers will, in the first instance, be taken on charge by the Ordnance Store Department, by certificate voucher supported by a certified copy of the detail of tools accepted by the Board of Officers. The forge tools will then be transferred to the Expense Store Accountant, and brought by him on Barrack Inventory; and the shoeing tools will be issued to the commanding Officer, and be brought on charge in the Regimental Equipment Ledger. These transfers may be paper transactions, but the correctness of the detail of tools should be verified, which may be done simultaneously, at a meeting of the representatives of the Ordnance Store Department, the Commissariat, and the Commanding Officer, at such place as may be most convenient.

15. The shoes on the horses' feet on the 1st April will also be taken over from the farriers, who will be paid for them at the rate of 1s. per set. The amount will be charged against the public in the regimental pay list.

16. All shoes, nails, iron, and shoeing tools issued from store, will be brought on charge in the regimental equipment ledger, and the shoes, nails, and iron expended, will be written off by expense voucher quarterly. At all transfers of command, the stock on charge will be verified.

17. Old shoes not required for working up into new shoes and nails in the forge, will, quarterly, or before a regiment leaves a station, be returned into Ordnance Stores, as old iron, by weight, and taken on charge by Ordnance Store Officers by certificate voucher. On an average, it is expected that from one third to two thirds of the old shoes will become surplus regimental wants. Receipts for the old iron will be sent in with the equipment ledgers, as a check against the store ledgers.

18. The shoes of horses transferred from other mounted services will be paid for at the rates laid down in Section XI, para. 7, "Queen's Regulations and Orders for the Army, 1885;" the amount being charged against the public in the regimental pay lists.

19. In like manner, the shoes of horses transferred to other mounted services will be charged to the farriers at the same rates; the amounts being credited to the public in the regimental pay lists of the regiment transferring the horses.

20. Officers' horses may be shod, if desired, with store shoes, such shoes and nails to be paid for at the rate of one shilling and twopenny per set. The farriers will render a monthly return of the number of Officers' horses thus shod, in order that the necessary credit may be given for the shoes and nails in the pay list. All other shoeing must be done by private arrangement, and with private materials.

21. The tools taken over from the farriers will be replaced by issues from store as they become unserviceable. One set of the following forge tools will be allowed for each forge fire; they will be drawn by Commanding Officers from the Officer in charge of barracks, and held on inventory. Eight sets of the following shoeing tools (one set per troop) will be allowed to each regiment; they will be drawn from the Ordnance Store Department, and accounted for in the regimental equipment ledger:—

21. On the promulgation of these instructions, Ordnance Store Officers will demand, for the year next ensuing, a supply of tools for issue to the Cavalry as required. It is estimated that, in the first instance, a sufficient store will be four sets of shoeing and two sets of forge tools, where only one regiment of Cavalry is stationed, and half those quantities for each regiment at other stations. 50 rasps per regiment will also be demanded as a store reserve. After the year of introduction, tools will be estimated for by the Ordnance Store Department in the same manner as all other stores.

22. Ordnance Store Officers will carefully watch this service, as it is of the utmost importance that they have sufficient shoes, nails, and tools of the several sizes always in store for the wants of the troops. They should immediately, therefore, send in intermediate demands to Woolwich when the store falls below a six months' supply, bearing in mind that the issues of shoes and nails for instructional purposes to other mounted services will continue to be made on repayment for the present, as heretofore.

A.O. 171.—Substitution of Iron Pails for Leather Buckets in Standing Camps.

1. In future, the "pail, iron, galvanized, 4 gallons," referred to in § 4379, List of Changes in War Matériel, will be issued for all services in standing camps, in place of the "bucket, water, General Service, leather," which will be retained for field service, flying columns, and on the line of march.

2. Buckets in possession of batteries, and of other units, holding these articles as part of their fixed equipment, need not be returned into store, but will only be used as directed in para. 1. In standing camps, galvanized buckets will be demanded and used.

3. The following amendments will be made in Section XIV. of the Equipment Regulations, 1881 :—

* The Service (steel) projectiles on charge of the battery will be used, but any further supplies will be of cast-iron.

For page 153 substitute the following :—

The proportions of projectiles given in Classes I. and II., have been assigned on the assumption that the guns will be placed only on sea defences approachable by ironclad vessels; that the occasions where their fire might be required to aid in the land defences would be exceptional; that they might be opposed to wooden as well as to iron ships, and that they would generally (except in Class I.), be supported by auxiliary fire or by guns of smaller calibre bearing on the same field, capable of maintaining a rapid fire, and suitable for repelling the landing of troops within short ranges.

A.O. 177.—Supply of Rangefinders to Cavalry and Infantry.

The following will be added after Section II. c, Part 2, added by 210 A.C. 1884 to the Equipment Regulations, 1881, and the Appendix to this Army Order will be added after Appendix XXI. of the said Regulations.

SECTION II. b.*INSTRUCTIONS FOR THE SUPPLY AND INSPECTION OF RANGEFINDERS FOR CAVALRY AND INFANTRY.*1. Rangefinders for supply to Cavalry and Infantry will be classified as follows:—

Class I.—Instruments which satisfy the standard conditions of accuracy, or can be made to do so by repair.

Class II.—Instruments disrated, which are retained for exercise and instruction.

2. A rangefinder, Class I., will be supplied, as part of their service equipment, to all Cavalry regiments and Infantry battalions.

3. Cavalry regiments and Infantry battalions will also be supplied, as soon as practicable, for instructional purposes, with a second rangefinder, Class II., of the same pattern as their service instrument. The second rangefinder, Class I., which has been issued in some cases for want of Class II., need not be withdrawn.

4. Class II. instruments will not be taken on active service.

5. Regiments and battalions serving abroad (India excepted) will put forward demands for the exchange of their rangefinding equipment, as a rule, every two years. The old equipment will be sent home by the local Ordnance Store Officer to the Commissary-General, Royal Arsenal, Woolwich, for inspection before reissue. Demands for the exchange of damaged or untrustworthy instruments will of course be made whenever necessary.

6. History Sheets in duplicate will be made out for each Watkin small pattern rangefinder on the first occasion of issue from store after the date of this order.

One copy will be retained by the Commissary-General of Ordnance, Woolwich, and the other will accompany the instrument to which it relates. They will be compared whenever the instrument is returned to store, and the sheets will be carried on to completion, as shown in the specimen, Appendix XXI.

7. History Sheets will not be required for Weldon rangefinders, but a record will be kept by the Commissary-General of Ordnance, Woolwich, of all the Weldon rangefinders in the Service, according to their numbers, showing their classification and the regiments or battalions to which they have been issued.

8. The rangefinders and rangefinding equipment belonging to regiments or battalions at home will be inspected annually by the Inspector of Musketry of the district. The Inspector will communicate on this subject with Officers Commanding, who will send the instruments when required for inspection direct to him at his headquarters (see para. 2, Musketry Regulations, 1887), where appliances in the shape of accurately laid out ranges for testing purposes should be provided by the Royal Engineer Department.

9. The instruments and equipment will in all cases be returned after inspection to the regiments or battalions to which they belong, and, if pronounced unfit for service, will be returned by the Commanding Officer to Ordnance Store for transmission to Woolwich, accompanied by the usual requisition for exchange.

10. When an instrument is sent to the District Inspector of Musketry for inspection, a report on its condition at the time will be made on a half-sheet of foolscap paper, signed by the Officer commanding the regiment or battalion, and if the instrument is a Watkin, will be pinned to its History Sheet. The report will consist of answers to questions in the following form:—

|                                                                                    |                            |                                                         |                |                 |

11. When an instrument is returned to store as defective, the Commanding Officer's report on its condition, together with a further report by the District Inspector of Musketry, will be sent with it. The latter should give the details of the examination, with every particular likely to assist in the discovery of the cause or causes of error.

12. If an instrument or other article of rangefinding equipment becomes unserviceable, the Officer commanding the regiment or battalion to which it belongs, should, if at home, call upon the District Inspector of Musketry to examine it, without waiting for the regular period of inspection; if abroad, he should return the article to store forthwith, with a report on its condition, showing how it became unserviceable, and a demand that it should be replaced.

13. All rangefinders and articles of rangefinding equipment will be examined before acceptance into the Service, before and after repair, and before reissue from store without repair.
This examination, which, in the case of repairs of instruments, will include a certificate that the proposed charges are reasonable, and that the instrument is worth the expenditure, will be made by the Instructor, School of Rangefinding, Aldershot, or other competent viewer appointed by the Director of Artillery and Stores.

Instruments will not be disrated or condemned, except on the recommendation of this examining Officer.

APPENDIX TO ARMY ORDER 139.

RESULTS of the Musketry Training of the Permanent Staff and Battalions of Militia in Great Britain, Ireland, and the Channel Islands for the year 1887.

I. The trained Militiamen of 112 battalions and 4 half battalions were exercised in accordance with the Militia Regulations. In 1886 the numbers were 60 and 36.

II. Eight battalions were exercised through a modified course only for the reasons given in Table C. In 1886 the number was 18.

III. The 5th Battalion Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers, 4th Battalion Connaught Rangers, and 5th Battalion Connaught Rangers, not having trained 70 per cent. of the strength, are not included in the above tables.

IV. The total number of men exercised in the battalions and half-battalions mentioned in paras. i., ii., and iii. was 59,667 (including 2,416 partly exercised), as against 37,555 (including 4,545 partly exercised) in 1886; and the per-centage not exercised in the battalions and half-battalions was 12'26 as against 13'03 in 1886.

V. The details and results of the practice of the above 116 battalions and half-battalions will be found under their respective headings in Table B.

VI. Nine battalions were not exercised, chiefly owing to "no range being available." As 21 battalions were shown in the corresponding list in the report for 1886, this is a marked improvement.

VII. The two best shooting battalions (taking the individual firing only) were the 3rd Battalion King's Own Scottish Borderers, figure of merit 66 24 (maximum 110'00); and the 3rd Battalion Dorsetshire Regiment, figure of merit 66'04.

In volley and independent firing, the 3rd Battalion Dorsetshire Regiment stands first, with a per-centage of hits to rounds fired of 81'13, and the 4th Battalion South Wales Borderers second, with a per-centage of 79'13.

VIII. The two best shooting companies in individual firing were letter "H" Company of the 4th Battalion King's Shropshire Light Infantry, figure of merit 74'46; and letter "B" Company of the 3rd Battalion King's Own Scottish Borderers, figure of merit 70'20.

In volley and independent firing the two best shooting companies were letter "A" Company 3rd Battalion Dorsetshire Regiment with a per-centage of hits to rounds fired of 88'75, and letter "C" Company, same corps, with a per-centage of 89'69.

IX. The two best shots of the rank and file were Corporal T. Davis, 4th Battalion King's Shropshire Light Infantry, with 102 points (maximum 110); and Sergeant W. Clark, of the same battalion, with 102 points.

X. The following table shows the results of the shooting of the battalions and half-battalions according to the standard adopted in 1886.

TABLE A.

| Year.        | 78orVery Good. | 66orGood. | 54orModerate. | Under 54orBad. | Total. |

* The standard in force for 1887, has been brought to the same level as that for 1886, to make this comparison possible.

XI. The Permanent Staff of 136 battalions went through the annual course, which is similar to that for the Militia trained soldier, but omitting volley and independent firing. Their practice was very good.

XII. The two highest figures of merit of the Permanent Staff were obtained by the 4th Battalion Northamptonshire Regiment, figure of merit 84'40 (maximum 110'00), and 4th Battalion Durham Light Infantry, figure of merit 83'42.

XIII. The two best shots of the Permanent Staff were Colour-Sergeant J. Brown, 3rd Battalion Royal Scots Regiment, with 98 points (maximum 110); and Sergeant W. Pollard, 4th Battalion Northamptonshire Regiment, with 97 points.

Recruits.

XIV. It appears by the returns received that 21,584 men were exercised as recruits during the year 1887, leaving 5,429 still to be trained. The classification was as follows:—

| 1st Class Shots. | 2nd Class Shots. | 3rd Class Shots. |
|------------------|------------------|------------------|
| 39'90 per cent.  | 30'89 per cent.  | 29'19 per cent.  |

XV. The Channel Islands Militia (see Table D.) were exercised as follows:—

Royal Jersey.

The three battalions were exercised in individual firing at 200, 300, 500, and 600 yards (20 rounds at 500 and 600 yards) 10 rounds figure target practice, and 20 rounds in the volley and independent practices. Total, 90 rounds. Total men exercised 1,047.

Royal Guernsey.

The three battalions were exercised up to 600 yards (defence practice omitted) as laid down for the Line, with 10 rounds in volley and independent firing at 400 yards. Total, 60 rounds. Total men exercised 806.

TABLE B.

RETURN showing the Results of the Practice of each battalion or half-battalion, in which at least 70 per cent. of the men have undergone a course of Target Practice during the year 1887, and who were exercised in individual firing at 100, 200, 250, and 300 yards (five rounds at each distance), 10 rounds at "figure" target, and 10 rounds in volley and independent firing at 300 yards.

In battalions marked with a † only one "half-battalion" was exercised.

The order in which the battalions are placed is according to the battalion average points obtained in the "individual firing." The "number in order of merit" in the first column shows the order both in the individual firing and in the section volley and independent firing, thus—
